TAX REDUCTION IS PROMISED BY REPUBLICANS

PILOT OF THE SHIP OF STATE AND 1ST OFFICER MAPPING OUT THEIR COURSE

President-Elect and Vice-President-Elect Conferring at Marion.

FIRST OPPORTUNITY TO TALK OVER POLICIES

Declaration of Senator Fall Forecasting New Conference, Widely Discussed.

(International News Service)
MARION, O., Dec. 16.—The man who will pilot the ship of state for the next four years conferred today with his chief officer. Governor Coolidge, when he arrived today, had the first real opportunity since the days following the Chicago convention, to consult personally with President-elect Harding.

They met, briefly in Washington in July but since that time sweeping changes have taken place in both foreign and domestic affairs.

It became known today that details of the situation in Guatemala, arising out of the imprisonment and plea for release of Manuel Cabrera, former dictator, have been forwarded here. The documents were accompanied, it is said, by the resolution of Senator Moses, in the Senate, and papers relating to the disclosures of the Guatemalan minister to Washington. It is understood they will be brought to the attention of Senator Harding.

The declaration late yesterday of Senator Fall of New Mexico that he was confident that Europe was ready to scrap the treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations in favor of an association of nations, including the United States, and forecasting a new peace conference with Washington as the place of meeting, was widely discussed here today.

HOME DAMAGED

The Kramer home, 1009 Wadsworth street, was slightly damaged by fire yesterday afternoon late. Several holes were burned through the roof.

SPECIAL EFFORT NOW YIELDS RESULTS FOR BIG AUTO PRIZES

"Opportunity Period" Ends Saturday Night at 10 O'clock—55,000 Extra Credits Will be Allowed Upon Each $18.00 in Subscriptions Turned in—Positively the Best Extra Offer

With a determination that whatever surprises may be in store will not catch them unawares, contestants in the big campaign will work hard to make these final days of the "Opportunity Period" offer the banner ones of the race up to the present time. This is the logical time while the extra 55-000 credits are given for every $18 in subscriptions, to place a long lead between you and your nearest competitor.

Vigorous efforts on the part of contestants have confirmed all predictions that this week will be a strenuous one among those who aspire to the ownership of one of the automobiles. Before the campaign manager had time to open his desk this morning he was called to answer the telephone. A contestant was on the wire and asked that another receipt book be sent at once.
Then another called to turn in a subscription.

"Warming Up"

Some of the contestants are "getting their towns behind them." Where only one contestant is in the town this can be very effectively worked and with wonderful results. It is a matter of public pride to assist any energetic person to own such an automobile as The Daily is offering. The publicity which is sure to result from the success of the contestant is of the beneficial sort in that it shows the hospitality and true-blue qualifications of the town's people. And not one is given to the contestant where there is not full value received in return. If you have a lady or man in your community who is working for these wonderful motor cars you cannot do any

SEVERE SHOCK RECORDED BY SEISMOGRAPH

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The seismograph at Georgetown university recorded one of the most severe earthquakes in years this morning. The first record of the shock came at 7:35 a. m. and became most pronounced at 8:07 a. m. At 11 a. m. it was still on, according to observers. There was no indication of the probable location of the quake.

CONSTANTINE OFF FOR LAST LEG OF RETURN TO GREECE

(International News Service)
VENICE, Dec. 16.—Foreign warships, including an American war vessel, paid homage to Constantine when he sailed for Piræus today on board the Greek cruiser Averoff. When Constantine arrived here, he was met at the train by the admiral of the port, the mayor and a guard of honor.

An American ship in the harbor was dressed out with flags in honor of the departure of the Greek king.
Constantine told the correspondent of the Rome Tribunal that he would not abdicate.

"My abdication would be followed by civil war in Greece. I shall devote myself to the restoration of internal peace," said the returning monarch.

The Averoff is due to arrive at Piræus, the port of Athens, on Sunday.

ACT OF COURTESY

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—The action of naval officers in dressing an American vessel at Venice in honor of King Constantine does not constitute recognition of the king but was merely an act of courtesy, it was said at the state department today. The state department takes the position it is not necessary to recognize the Greek king for the representatives of the United States have been continually in Greece and there has been no interruption of these relations.

STAGE, LITERALLY, SET TODAY FOR THE CHARITY MINSTREL; TICKETS GO RAPIDLY

Members of Cast Have Received the Final Finishing Touches.

S. R. O. SIGN EXPECTED TO BE SHOWN EARLY

All Proceeds From Show Will be Used for Christmas Tree.

The stage was set literally today for the big Kiwanis charity minstrel, to be given at the Princess Theater tonight.
The final rehearsal was held last night at the Masonic and a dress rehearsal was set for this afternoon.

The rehearsal last evening revealed the fact that the members of the cast have received the finishing touches and were on their toes for the curtain.

The advance sale of seats indicated today that the house will "sell out" and the "S. R. O." sign was expected to be brought into use long before the first curtain goes up on the opening number.

Proceeds for Charity

All proceeds from the performance will be used in providing a Christmas tree for the local kiddies, whose address may be lost by Santa Claus. The "tree" will be arranged during the Christmas holidays, probably on Christmas Eve, although all plans for it have not yet been completed.

Persons who have been privileged to see the rehearsals for the entertainment declare it will be one of the best amateur performances ever staged.
All members of the cast and Director Knight have worked industriously for the success of the entertainment and the program includes the best talent in North Alabama.

At the luncheon of the club today the ticket committees were preparing their final reports on the sale of seats.

POISON TRIAL WILL CONTINUE A WEEK

INTEREST CENTERS ON TESTI-MONY OF SHEPARD'S SIS-TER, MRS. CRANDALL

(International News Service)
MACON, Ga., Dec. 16.—When the trial hearings in the Shepard poison case were resumed Thursday before Judge Mathews in Bibb superior court, lawyers for both sides indicated that it will continue at least one week, as 92 witnesses are to be examined.

Following the expert testimony given Wednesday by Dr. Everhart, Atlanta chemist, and Dr. Funk, Atlanta pathologist, both of whom told of finding mercurial poisoning, interest centered today in the testimony of Mrs.
Alice Crandall, sister of Shepard, whose suspicion as to the cause of his death caused the investigation.

Her testimony will deal with the alleged conspiracy to murder Shepard, which the state has laid at the door of his former wife, Mrs. Eugene Elmer; Mrs. Elmer's sister, Mrs. Ione Henry; Ernest Hopson, her son by a former marriage, and Mrs. Earnest Cutts, close friend of the family, all of whom are seeking bail in the present hearing.

Another of the state's star witnesses today was expected to be J. J. Peterson, tenant on the farm of Mrs. Cutt at Perry, who previously swore to an affidavit for the state regarding alleged criminating conversation with Mrs.
Cutt as to the death of Shepard.

CHILDREN TO HAVE TURKEY FEED, TREE AND 'SANTA CLAUS' AT SHRINERS' PARTY

Families Also Will be Remembered With Big Baskets of Provisions.

DINNER BE SERVED IN COLONIAL BALLROOM

No Details Overlooked to Make Children's Christmas Party Complete.

Children of Decatur, Albany, Austinville and neighboring communities will enjoy a real feast and a visit from an acting "Santa" when they are guests of the Shrine Club at a Christmas dinner and tree Thursday, December 23.

Nobles of North Alabama have completed all but the details of the entertainment for the kiddies. Mrs. Vera Austell has been appointed general chairman of the dinner committee and her committee will have the task of preparing the big turkey feed, with all accessories, to which the children will be invited. Service of the dinner will be started about one o'clock, according to present plans, in the old Colonial ballroom.

Santa to Visit

All of the tables will be arranged in a square with a gigantic tree in the center, upon which gifts will be placed for all the guests. Genial Seneca Burr will act as Santa Claus and he will distribute the gifts to the guests.

The families from which the Shriners' guests come will not be overlooked on this occasion, as well stocked provision baskets have been purchased and each guest of the Nobles will receive a basket of groceries to take home.

No details have been overlooked to make the children's Christmas party complete. An orchestra has been obtained and a musical program will be rendered throughout the hour or so in which the children will be entertained.

The Shriners' wives will wait on the tables, serving the hungry little mouths with every delicacy on the menu. The Nobles, themselves, have been invited to attend the banquet to enjoy the pleasure of the guests.

The list of names of the children to be invited to the feast are being prepared and are almost complete. The name of each individual will appear on the gift to be delivered from the Christmas tree.

FEDERAL BUILDING IS OCCUPIED TODAY BY DECATUR P. O.

Without interruption of service in the least, the Decatur postoffice last night was moved from its old quarters on the corner of Bank and Vine streets and this morning opened for business in its new home in the Federal building on Bank street.

Under the direction of Postmaster Crawford and his capable staff of assistants, the records were transferred and incoming and outgoing mail was handled with dispatch despite the fact that it was "moving day."

All of the furnishings of the new building are new also, even the postal mail carriers beginning their rounds this morning armed with spick and span new sacks. Furnishings of the new building are modern in every respect, all of the latest improvements adopted by the department being included in the equipment.

In addition to space for the postal business proper, the Federal building contains office space for holding civil service examinations, railway mail clerks, postal inspectors, army and navy recruiting stations.

The building formerly occupied by the postoffice will be occupied about January 1 by the Decatur Drug Company. It will be remodeled and made into one of the most attractive retail stands in North Alabama.

Threat of Chili to Quit League Told Assembly

Bulgaria is Admitted to Membership in League of Nations, But Lowly Armenia is Turned Down.

(International News Service)
GENEVA, Dec. 16.—Chili virtually served notice today she will withdraw from the League of Nations if attempts are made to revise the Chilean and Peruvian treaties. The general committee of the assembly had placed Bolivia's motion for a revision of these treaties upon the program of business for the next assembly meeting in 1921, although Chili opposed this action.

The head of the Chilean delegation, Dr. Huneus, announced that the morning session of the assembly that Chili would refuse to accept revision of the treaties by the league on the ground that the league was not competent to consider treaties made before its creation.

The League of Nations assembly today admitted Bulgaria to the League of Nations. France and Australia refused to vote. Finland, Luxemburg and Costa Rica were admitted to the league unanimously.

The assembly refused to admit Armenia to the league, although the proposal to admit this country was supported by Canada, Switzerland, Uruguay, Peru, Portugal, Salvador, Sweden and Venezuela. The admission of Armenia was moved by Canada. In the debate that followed, Senator E.
D. Millen of Australia pointed out that Armenia is now a Bolshevik republic.

Lord Robert Cecil, representative of South Africa, opposed the admission of Armenia, saying the league could not protect Armenia under Article 10 of the covenant.

ALMON IS AUTHOR OF BILL OF RELIEF FOR THE FARMERS

Congressman Edward B. Almon, of the Eighth District, is author of a joint resolution, introduced before the House, providing for relief of the farmers.

The resolution follows:

Whereas, There exists in the agricultural sections of the country unprecedented and unparalleled distress on account of the inability of the farmers to dispose of the corn, wheat, cotton, live stock and other commodities now in marketable condition at prices that will pay the cost of production; and

Whereas, The people of Europe are in dire need of the agricultural products now in possession of the farmers of this country, but are unable to purchase on account of existing financial conditions; and

Whereas, Under an Act of Congress there was established the War Finance Corporation for the purpose of financing the exportation of American products to foreign markets; and

Whereas, The activities of the War Finance Corporation were suspended in May, 1920, by an order of the Secretary of the Treasury; and

Whereas, The banks of the country are unable to extend credit to the farmer in order that the farm products may be held until they can be sold in a fair and reasonable market; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of the Treasury and the members of the War Finance Corporation are hereby directed to revive the activities of the War Finance Corporation, and that said corporation be at once rehabilitated with the view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural products to foreign markets.

Section 2. That the Federal Reserve Board is hereby directed to take such action as may be necessary to permit the member banks of the Federal Reserve System, in accordance with law and consistent with sound banking, to grant liberal extensions of credit to the farmers of the country upon the security of the agricultural products now held by them, by permitting the rediscounting of such notes of extension at the lowest possible rate of interest.

POINDEXTER'S BILL, AIMED AT STRIKES, PASSED BY SENATE

dexter bill, making the interference with interstate commerce a felony punishable by a fine of $10,000 or ten years' imprisonment, was passed today by the Senate. The bill is aimed against railroad strikes, prohibiting the combination of "any parties" to hinder interstate commerce.

ti-trust suit filed against them by

HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY WINNER OVER THE GORDON TEACHERS

Postponed Basket Contest Played for Benefit Athletic Fund

The faculty of the Gordon school went down to defeat yesterday before the rushes of the high school teachers on the local basketball court, 26 to 19.
Coach W. H. Templeton proved more adept in his duties as "goalpost" than did Superintendent Cowart, who acted as goalpost for the Gordon faculty.

It was a great battle, as several hundred students and patrons of the school who witnessed the contest, will readily admit. The Gordon team suffered the handicap of having the High battlers swipe the jerseys and socks of the varsity high team. Nevertheless the Gordon crew put up a game fight. For the first quarter the honors were even, the score being 3-3. In the second the Gordon team forged into the lead, Superintendent Cowart doing his best work of the day in that stanza, his arms working with lightning rapidity and with deadly accuracy in encircling the ball as it was thrown in his general direction by a hurrying Gordon player. At the end of the half the score was: Gordon 9, High 7.

During the intermission Coach Templeton, as was his wont during the football season, "talked" to the High team—and, no doubt, was himself talked to. Anyway, the High began a drive in the third period which netted them victory. They went into the lead

LEADER MONDELL GIVES AN OUTLINE OF POLICY PARTY ADOPTS FOR U. S.

Expert to Pass Part of War
Cost to Future Generations.

RIGID ECONOMY WILL BE PRACTICED AVERS

"National Treasury Will be Protected" the Republican Spokesman Promises.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Promise of reduction in taxes by passing a part of America's war debt on to future generations was made today by Representative Mondell, Republican leader, in the House of Representatives.

Leader Mondell outlined the financial plan of the Republicans as follows:

Repeal of the excess profits tax; abandonment of some special taxes; reduction of heavy sur-taxes on incomes; funding of a part of the present floating debt; refunding of the Victory loan; drastic reduction in government expenditures; re-enactment of protective tariff duties.

Mondell's plan of passing the war debt to future generations under refunding operations, running 50 or 60 years, differs from the administration plan as presented by Secretary Houston.

The latter proposed taxation to pay off the floating debt and Victory loan at maturity which would preclude any reduction in the volume of taxes, although recommendation was made for abandonment of the excess profits tax and readjustment of other taxes. The repeal of the excess profits tax, the abandonment of some of the special taxes and the reduction of the heavy sur-taxes on incomes is advised by Mondell.

He says that with the practice of economies, the refunding of part of the floating war debt and increased receipts from customs duties, the federal treasury can be protected. Mon-dell urged Congress to hold all appropriations to a total not exceeding $3,250,000,000. The greatest cutting of estimates, he said, must be for the army, navy and sundry civil appropriations.

WILL THE PRESIDENT MAKE A LAST STAND FOR THE LEAGUE

While President-elect Harding is selecting his cabinet with a view to avoiding controversy over the League of Nations in his official family, rumors are persistent that President Wilson is preparing to bring the league into prominence shortly by a personal appearance before the Senate in a final effort to get it ratified.

It is reported in Washington that Mr. Wilson is husbanding his energies for the task, and that his final address as President of the United States will be a great plea for world peace and the League as now adopted by over 40 nations. At no time has Mr. Wilson ever been referred to as a quitter. Having made the adoption of the league a religious and moral issue in so far as he was able, it will not be at all surprising if he deems it his duty to make a last stand for it, just as he made a nation wide appeal for it before he ruined his health in the effort.

Considerations for his continued recovery will doubtless influence his close relatives and his physicians to do all in their power to dissuade Mr. Wilson from making the effort. He will doubtless be told that the Senate will listen only to the voice of Harding, and that what ever he might say would fall on deaf ears. Although Woodrow Wilson, were convinced that speaking before the Senate would impair his health still further, and although he were convinced that his effort would be without practical result, such considerations would have little weight with him. As in the past he will be found taking the ground that he must do his utmost regardless of the results. He fell like a soldier that has been ordered to attack, and he will not stop to question or reason why.

The most zealous friends of the League of Nations, do not feel that the President needs to exert himself further in its behalf. They know that he has already laid down his life for it. The league's friends, as well as his close relatives and his physicians would doubtless recommend that he remain away from further conflict. It will remain for only his closest and dearest friends to advise him. They alone could get his ear in such an important and delicate matter.

If Mr. Wilson feels for one moment that he has not yet done all possible for world peace as fostered by the league, he will once more plead before the Senate. Such an appearance would be more than merely spectacular—though it would be all that in the highest sense of the word—it would be an historic occasion, than which few others could take higher rank in the whole history of man's struggles from barbarism, to the highest plains of living.

The "Wilsonian idealism," which the shallow minded and irreverent have delighted to deride and belittle, would have a fitting vindication if once again its author should put his life in the balance in a final effort to get the Senate and the world to see the wisdom and the value of accepting world wide laws against the power of one nation to make war against another nation.

FEW HAVE ADEQUATE IDEA OF THE SIZE OF COUNTRIES

What schoolboy or girl has an adequate idea of the comparative size of the various countries of the world?

Very few, says the U. S. Geological Survey. The reason? Because school geographies, like school histories, magnify the importance of the United States as compared with foreign countries.

It has long been the dream of geographers to make a series of maps of the world on a uniform scale. It is considered unfortunate for school children that the geographies do not show all countries by maps on a single, uniform scale, for unless a student observes closely the scale of each map or the figures showing the area of the country being studied, he is likely to get the impression that certain distant lands, which are generally mapped on a small scale, are smaller than those with which he is most familiar.

Australia, which is shown on most school maps on a small scale—about one-third as large as that used for the map of the United States—is really about the same size of the United States about 2 1/2 per cent smaller. China is also generally shown on a small scale, yet it is about one-third larger than the United States.

The error is serious for grown-ups, too. The work of preparing maps of the entire world on a uniform scale has been under way for some time, and the Survey has made considerable progress in its work on the parts of this map that were assigned to the United States. The task is one of those useful but little-known jobs that the government is always doing.—Anniston Star.

IMMIGRATION SHOULD BE RESTRICTED

Since the armistice, immigration to the United States has again become the fashion in Europe—for the past two years there has been a steadily increasing tide of Europeans coming to this country. It is reported that 15,000,000 Europeans are clamoring for transportation to the United States. Even if this were true, it would take something like twenty years to bring them all over here, so there is apparently no immediate necessity for serious alarm. Yet the very fact that immigration is increasing rapidly should cause the authorities to become increasingly careful as to the character of immigrants admitted to our shores.

We have had enough trouble through the admission of undesirable immigrants into this country. This was particularly true during the war and just afterwards through labor troubles. For it is generally admitted that it was the foreign element that precipitated most of the strikes, and fomented revolutionary activities in this country. Furthermore it is not up to us to take care of Europe's surplus population nor is it advisable to take on any more of the dissatisfied elements of turbulent European nationalities.

If more laws are needed to keep out this element and restrict immigration to this country, Congress should at once pass the necessary legislation. If we already have sufficient laws to cover the situation, they should be rigidly enforced, so as to prevent our population from becoming further contaminated by the offscourings of Europe.—Rome (Ga.) Tribune.

Voice of People

Editor The Daily:
The immigration bill just passed as mentioned in The Daily yesterday has, no doubt, scored with the majority of American citizens, and is recognized as one of the most progressive moves of Congress within the last 20 years of legislation.

This country, without such legislation, stood in great danger of having its form of government usurped by the disseminating foreign factions who come here ignorant and naked to share in our freedom and wealth only to start a form of government which is a "chinese puzzle" to the gods to say nothing of mere unlearned man.

Every year of the late Congressman Burnett's activity in the House I pressed this question before him and he stood by me and others, so interested, most loyally for which we have ever to thank him.

When the Japanese anti-alien land bill was under hot discussion I wrote Governor Johnson of California two very strong letters beseeching him to sign the measure and now I am rejoiced to know that the national legislature has seen the danger of citizenship poisoning by the unlearned and unskilled foreigner coming to this country. Now, if Congress will go one step further and have all foreigners coming here serve three to five years on the farm before they are permitted in the mines, mills and shops.

Yours truly,
J. C. SMITH.

Editor The Daily:

You were a TEN THOUSAND DOLLAR man while you were in the service! How much are you worth now? Are you still protecting yourself, and the folks by carrying your government insurance protection? No? Well, then, they are sure out of luck. Two big accidents happened within a few months—the Wall street explosion, in which 12 ex-service men were killed, and the explosion at Parrish, Alabama, in which eight of the twelve men killed were ex-service men.

Only two out of the 20 had kept up their insurance. What happened, besides their being killed? Nothing much except that the dependents of those two were cared for. They had met their duties as men to their people. Their relations do not share in the loss of $248,000 which would have been paid the other 18 ex-service men's dependents had they kept up their government insurance, amounting to less than three cents a day for each thousand dollars carried. If you are single, don't you owe it to that mother or father, or both, to protect them to at least the extent of $4000 or $5000, which they have expended upon you up to this time? Sure you DO. You can get back your insurance protection now. Take the opportunity offered by the government, reinstate your insurance at once. Under the new ruling you have 18 months from date of discharge or grace period to do this without having to take an examination and until July 1, 1921, no matter how long you are out, by taking the examination required by the War Risk Insurance Bureau. The War Risk Insurance officer of the American Legion or the Red Cross Chapter will assist you if help is needed, or write to this office for information and reinstatement blanks. If you want your policy settled in a lump sum, you can have same by changing your War Risk Insurance to permanent government insurance.

You can sell your permanent policy back to the government if necessary. In time of trouble you can have it extended or you can borrow on it from the government. You don't have to die to beat this game, but you will live happier and feel better if you have this protection for yourself and home folks. Mothers, fathers, wives and sweethearts, see that your ex-service men reinstate now and convert later. EDWARD J. QUINN, War Risk Representative.

Ancient Inventions Used on Motors. Perhaps the oldest design used in the modern automobile is that of the universal joint, which in principle is identical with the first universal developed by Cardan around 1529 A. D. Such joints are used in all modern automobiles and trucks in order to allow the propeller shaft to revolve and at the same time move up and down and side-ways relative to the rear axle. The axle bounces up and down according to road conditions, but the propeller shaft must connect this bouncing part with another unit attached to the frame of the car.

THE WIFE QUESTION AT DELITE TODAY

If you saw your wife hugging to her bosom a bundle of old love letters and she refused to show them to you, what would you think? And Mrs. Young Wife, if you saw your husband doing the same thing, what would be your condition of mind? An answer, which led to a remarkable complication of events, is given in "Wives and Other Wives" of which Mary Miles Minter is the star, to be shown at the Delite Theater today.

THEY, TOO

October 4, 1917.

From the sunny South to the wind-swept North, All unmarked, forgotten, scattered, Are the graves of the sleepers who have fared them forth And on the doors of Justice have battered.

If the cause was just and the time was ripe, What of swords, or spears, or guns, For these were America's original type They, too, would fight the Huns.

We know the history of the U. S. A. And the men who have made it, too; Some were the men who wore the gray And full many who wore the blue.

They may now be sleeping, our braves of old, And have been for many suns, But could they assemble again so bold, They, too, would fight the Huns.

When the German arm with its grasping greed, Reached to encircle the globe, It flung itself in Justice's free, And bled her snow-white robe.

Columbia's laddies were strong and brave And could shoulder many guns; She knew that Justice's face to save, They, too, must fight the Huns.

Up and down our peaceful, broad, fair land, From each little hamlet and town, See they come rushing with willing hand, To don the suits of brown.

"Get us all ready and you can just bet With lots of munitions and guns, We won't forget Friend Lafayette; We, too, would fight the Huns."

And when they were landed on foreign shores, These khaki-clad lads so game, It was "over the top" with whoops and roars, "We'll get 'em just the same."

Then fear came into the Hun beast's heart, When he saw the Yank and his guns For never had he even dreamed in part We, too, could fight the Huns.

The men of the Allies looked on in amazement, And questioned among each other: "This wonderful spirit of these fighting lads, Where did they get it, my brother?"

Oh! think of the sleepers of the long gone years, And how they shouldered their guns, This is the spirit of our pioneers; They, too, would fight the Huns! —Mrs. Geo. D. Webb.

MISS SMITH HONORED

The Epworth League of the Ninth Street M. E. church gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Elise Smith, a bride-elect of December 16.

666 will break a Cold, Fever and Grippe quicker than anything we know, preventing pneumonia.

at the home of Miss Edith Butler on Seventh avenue. The parlor and dining rooms were beautifully decorated in the league colors of yellow and white with potted plants and ferns. In the center of the parlor were two cupid dressed as bride and groom. Mrs. Roy Yarbrough and Mrs. Fred Thorpison received the guests and presents while Mrs. Grady Wiggins resided at the registering table. Appropriate music was rendered by Miss Stella Curl. The bride-elect was beautifully attired in white organdy over yellow while the hostess was attired in pink taffeta. The presents were brought in on a wagon drawn by Marvin Yarbrough and driven by Opal Cavnar. Little Opal Cavnar, dressed in yellow and white, made the presentation speech, the honoree accepting with appropriate words. A book was presented the bride-elect with suitable wishes and names of the guests. At a late hour the guests were invited into the dining room, where punch was served to 60 guests by Mrs. Butler, assisted by Mrs. Hammonds and Mrs. Curl.

THOMPSON-BASS

The wedding of Miss Norine Thompson to Mr. Clarence W. Bass was solemnized at 8:30 o'clock December 15 at the home of the bride. The home was decorated in blue and white crepe, ferns and pot flowers.

Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Walker sang "When You Are Truly Mine," after which the strain of the wedding march was sounded, and in marched the attendants, Miss Vera Motes and Mr. Mitchell Owen, followed by the bride and bridegroom, who stood within an altar of maiden hair ferns. During the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. G. C. Walker, music was rendered by Mrs. G. C. Walker.

The bride wore a suit of midnight blue amoretti, with black accessories, carrying a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was appropriately dressed in a midnight blue tricot gown, and carried a pretty bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Bass left Thursday morning for Pensacola and Jacksonville, Fla., stopping enroute home in Montgomery. After a trip of some days they will be at home with the bride's parents, 1801 Seventh avenue, south.

SMITH-WILLIAMS

Of affectionate interest to their many North Alabama friends is the announcement of the marriage at Diana, Tenn., Wednesday, December 15, of Miss Mabel Williams, of Diana, and J. Sam Smith of Mooresville.

The bride taught in the Mooresville-Belle Mina school last year. J. Pettie Ezell, minister of the Jackson Street Church of Christ, officiated. After a brief visit to Nashville they will be at home in Mooresville.

TALENT DAY

Mrs. H. I. Gill was hostess to an all-day meeting of the Christian Woman's Union Monday at her attractive bungalow on Jackson street. In June each member took one dollar and used her talents to increase this sum. At the meeting Monday reports were made and the grand total counted, which proved very satisfactory, members having made from five to twenty dollars from their original dollars.

During the afternoon session of the meeting Mr. McWhirter addressed the ladies on "Talents." At noon Mrs. Gill served a tempting lunch and in the afternoon, when the teacher members of this union joined them, dainty afternoon refreshments were served. This body of women set a thousand dollar goal for their year's work and have almost attained the mark.

AUCTION BOOK CLUB

Mrs. J. C. Sheets was a delightful hostess Tuesday afternoon when she entertained the Auction Book Club. Three tables for the bridge game were arranged in the spacious living room. The prize for score, "Affinities," by Mary Roberts Rhinehart, was awarded to Mrs. Austin and Mrs. Sheets presented a dainty souvenir to Mrs. Geo. D. Webb of Memphis, who was the only club guest. After several hours over the card tables the hostess served dainty afternoon refreshments.

Reinforcements Sent to Ireland

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 16.—The war office is moving heavy reinforcements of troops into Ireland, it was learned today. Two battalions have been sent and eight others are under orders to move. All of southwestern Ireland (the district under martial law) is being combed for Sinn Fein gunmen, said a dispatch to The Daily Express. The cabinet probably will agree to the establishment of two senates in Ireland early in the new year.

LINES WRITTEN THE DAY FOLLOWING A DREAM

On one cold and stormy night The wind was high and cold; The one I loved with all my might Was robbed of her own soul, As her lifeless form lay on the bed Oh, how sad, to think of her being dead My only companion passed and gone To stay with Jesus up on the throne. The only hope is to trust His name, And meet our loved one in heaven again;

It will not be long until I must go, Then all will be well with us both, I know; And we will sing the sweet songs of His wondrous love, Of a Saviour in glory, of mansions above; He prepared us a city with streets of gold, In that fair city no mansion is sold. Each home is glittering with its golden strand And built of God, not built of man; I want a deed to the mansion of the heavenly home, That's all of the property that I hope to own; Each day to God a prayer I send As the lifeless body in the grave is laid. —Fred Thompson.

The unicorn of fable is supposed to have its origin from descriptions of the rhinoceros.

COTTON MARKET'S SHOWING IS POOR

LISTS GO UP SLIGHTLY ON BASIS OF THE EARLY BUYING

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Considering Liverpool's strength, the local cotton market made a poor showing at the opening today as first prices were only 15 to 18 points higher, except December, which, because of the issuance of two notices, was three points lower. Weakness in the stock market at the start, together with selling by Liverpool and Wall street and continued unsatisfactory conditions, contributed to the easier feeling which developed after the start, when prices fell to last night's level on the late months. Wire and commission houses were the best buyers early.

DEPORTATION OF MARTENS UP AGAIN

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 16.—Final decision in the deportation proceedings against L. C. K. The department would not comment on reports that Secretary Wilson has ordered the deportation of Martens and that this order has been approved by the President and his cabinet.

BOWLES RE-ELECTED TO A HIGH OFFICE

LOCAL BANKER AGAIN IS REPRESENTATIVE TO THE IMPERIAL COUNCIL

T. A. Bowles, cashier of the Central National Bank, has been re-elected representative to the imperial council, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, by Zama Temple in regular December conclave in Birmingham. The council will meet in Savannah next May.

The Birmingham meeting of the temple was described as one of the best in the history of the organization. Shriners were present from all sections of the state and from many temples outside the state.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY AND HARVEST DAY, C. M. E. CHURCH

The doors of Mrs. Virginia Graham's hospitable home, was opened to the Women's Missionary Society of Central M. E. church, Monday afternoon, December thirteenth. In spite of the inclement weather a good many were present. Mrs. Sturdivant was among the number; we were much pleased with the example she set us in facing the weather to attend duty, we were delighted to have her.

Mrs. Groenendyke's inability to be with us and the Harvest Day, on with its need of time, the study was postponed until January, 1921.

Mrs. Graham selected the 13th chapter of Matthews 44-52 verses inclusive, as a lesson for the hour, Mrs. Rose led the prayer. Mrs. Proctor gave us some beautiful thoughts on parables, showing that some are brought into Christ's kingdom by chance, some by long diligence and patient search, but it is the business of Christ's followers, to get as many as possible into the kingdom, then in the final judgment. God, who alone knows the human heart, will make the selection, and appoint them to that beautiful city for which they have been striving.

The great event in any man's life is when he finds God, it is the one thing that endureth. Young, beauty and friends and gold slip away, but God stays with his children. Each heart knows what it has cost him to attain the pearl of great price. It means the giving up all that prevents God rule our hearts. It means bringing to him for his use every faculty and possession. It means seeking with earnest effort to bring in Christ's order of love, brotherhood, service and making it the controlling principle of the organized life, of our town or state, our country and the whole world. When a man who is a lover of money renounces his covetousness, when the lover of pleasure, or the man under the control of appetite, conquers his haberdashery, when the proud man and women, cast aside their pride, and become humble. When the lazy man overcomes his love of "slippery ease," when the hard man becomes more human and sympathetic then each is selling what he has and buying the kingdom. It is not worth the price? Oh, yes, it brings compensation in this life, and eternal life after death.

We were much gratified over our year's work when the various reports were given. We felt that our labors had not been in vain. Mrs. Sturdivant expressed pleasure at being with us, and thanked the society for the welcome extended them on their arrival, and especially for the nice hot dinner that awaited their coming.

At the close of the business session, the Lord's prayer was repeated in concert and adjournment followed.

History of the Saddle.
In the earlier ages the Romans used neither saddles nor stirrups. Saddles were in use in the Third century, and are mentioned as made of leather in 804, and were known in England about 600. Stirrups were not known before the Fifth century, and not in general use before the Twelfth. Side saddles for ladies were introduced by Anne, queen of Richard II, in 1388.

SAFETY 1ST WORK IS ENCOURAGED

ROADMASTER HARRIS URGES CAREFULNESS DURING HOLIDAYS

As the day for the monthly meeting of the L. & N. Safety First Committee approaches, its chairman, C. W. Matthews, is distributing literature calculated to remind of the importance of guarding against accidents, and which will also be suggestive to the committeemen when they hold their meeting.

In a recent paper read by J. W. Harris, a roadmaster of the system, Mr. Harris encourages all hands to make a special effort for safe roadroading during the Christmas holidays. He speaks at length on the importance of the system's book of rules being read carefully and lived up to, to the letter. He takes issue with all who say the rules therein cannot be lived up to. He touches on the importance of proper tools and clean yards in the following manner:

"I am continually after my men to keep all cinders cleaned out of the track; all clinkers removed to a safe distance; all scrap iron picked up which not only makes it safe, but scrap iron picked up and shipped in is money for the company, and the road should be kept cleaned up at all times and scrap shipped in once a month. There is nothing that looks so bad as to see a whole lot of scrap iron sticking up through cinder piles and other rubbish around the yards and on line of road. Foremen are very apt to just throw scrap iron to one side and bury it, instead of taking it to some convenient point to load and ship in. I am making a practice of keeping scrap iron picked up at all times, but sometimes I fail on account of the negligence of the section foremen.

"Another thing we will have to do in order to keep up safety first, is to see that our men are supplied with safe tools with which to work. We have a great many accidents from time to time on account of the condition of tools that are being used, especially bad claw bars, spike mauls and cleavers. A great many accidents would be eliminated by furnishing good tools at all times. This can be readily done by sending worn-out tools to the shop and exchanging them for repaired tools."

ALBANY LISTED AS "OPEN" STATION

"PREPAY" INDICATION TAKEN OFF TARIFF SCHEDULES, IT IS ANNOUNCED

Albany now is listed on tariff schedules as an "open" station, it was announced today by the Chamber of Commerce. Albany formerly had been listed as a "prepay" station, which indicated the city was much smaller than it really is.

The Chamber of Commerce's statement says: "The correction mentioned puts Albany in the same class as all other large cities where the rightfully belongs. We may also say this correction is made by the railroad companies in recognition of the 'pop' and determination displayed by the business men and citizens of Albany in building the greatest city in North Alabama."

STOMACH SO BAD HE HAD TO GIVE UP JOB

But Mr. Myers has his old job back now, and has gained 30 pounds.

"Over a year ago my health got so bad I had to give up my work as a coal miner. Had a very bad case of stomach trouble, I felt so bad that I could not eat anything, and therefore, was too weak to work. I had been doctoring for a long time, but did not improve any."

"I finally started to take Milk's Emulsion and then went to a farm near here to work. I carried my Emulsion bottle with me all the time, took it regularly and gained in strength and flesh every day, and was able to work the entire season through on the farm, and now I am back at my work in the Greenidge Coal Mine."

"When I started taking Milk's Emulsion I was down to 185 pounds but now I weigh 165, and am as strong and healthy as I ever was."—Lem Myers, Virden, Ill.

Thousands of people who have suffered for years from stomach and bowel troubles, have found relief, almost from the first dose of Milk's Emulsion. And it is real, lasting benefit.

Milk's Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milk's Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milk's Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. FARMERS SELLING UNIT IS SOUGHT

LACK OF CREDIT WILL FORCE SALES SOON, BARRETT SAYS

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16.—Doubt as to the ability of farmers to continue their "strike" against low prices by withholding cotton, grain and other products from the market was expressed here today as representatives of 3,000,000 agriculturists went into conference to discuss plans for creating a national cooperative marketing organization.

Lack of sufficient credit to farmers would soon force them to sell huge supplies which are being held for higher prices. Immediate organization of the farmers of America into a gigantic selling body was urged by Charles S. Barrett, president of the national farmers union, as the only means of solving the agriculturists' reported distress, due to low prices for their products.

Addressing the conference, Barrett declared if farmers were to sell their wheat, cotton and other staple crops at present prices they would suffer an aggregate loss of approximately $5,000,000,000 or about one fourth of the national debt.

Vehicle on Right Has Right of Way

(From Motor Life)

There are no streets nor highways in the state of Pennsylvania on which because of the traffic importance of the thoroughfare the driver of an automobile has the right of way.

On every street, alley, state highway, county road or township thoroughfare, when two vehicles approach an intersection at the same time the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right of way.

There are no "priority" thoroughfares in Pennsylvania. The driver of a vehicle on Broad street, Philadelphia; Fifth avenue, Pittsburgh; Market street, Harrisburg; Main street, Johnstown; Lackawanna avenue, Scranton; Fourth street, Williamsport, or any other important Pennsylvania street—and the driver on the Lincoln highway, William Penn highway or other main thoroughfares, does not have the right of way simply because of his presence on an important traffic artery.

At all times, at every intersection of two public highways, the vehicle approaching from the right has the right of way.

The state highway department has issued a statement calling particular attention to section 25 of the automobile law approved by Governor Sproul June 30, 1919. This section contains the following provision:

"Every operator of a motor vehicle shall, at all times, keep as close as is visible to the right hand side of the highway, allowing other vehicles free passage to the left, and no operator of a motor vehicle shall allow such vehicle to stand in the center of the highway or so as to obstruct or interfere with any other users thereof."

"At the intersection of public highways, the operator of a motor vehicle shall keep to the right of the intersection of the centers of such highways when turning to the right, and shall pass to the right of such intersection before turning to the left."

"When two vehicles approach the intersection of two public highways at the same time, the vehicle approaching from the right shall have the right of way."

KILLING CHILDREN

By F. W. DERSHIMER, M. D.

State Board of Health.

Barney Boggs, bounced into the health officer and stamped up to the health officer's desk.

"What do you mean," he demanded angrily, "by shutting my daughter and her children up in the house and sticking a big sign on it the way you have? If any of them was sick it would be different, but they ain't."

"What are you talking about, Barney?" asked the health officer.

"Why, about my daughter, Mrs. Carey, that lives here in town. One of the kids has a little sore throat and maybe a pimple or two on her and you got the sign on the house saying that it's scarlet fever. And the kid is not even in bed!"

"Why, I see," said the health officer. "I did not know Mrs. Carey was your daughter."

"Well, she is," snorted Barney, "and I do not see why she should be shut up for a little thing like that."

"Barney, do you think it is right to put people in jail for wounding and killing folks?"

"Of course," said Barney.

"Well, suppose they do it accidentally but through carelessness? We still call it manslaughter if they kill somebody, do we not?"

"Yes."

"Do you think it is right to put them in jail?"

"Yes, if they have been careless."

"Why?"

"Well, so as to keep them from killing somebody else."

"Exactly," said the health officer, "and it is for the very same reason that we have quarantined your daughter and her children. It was not perhaps through carelessness on her part that the child contracted the disease, but it would not be right to risk the lives of all the other children of the community by allowing them to be exposed to it, so we have to confine your daughter and her children to the house."

"But the kids ain't sick," objected Barney. "I tell you that she did not have to stay in bed at all."

"Barney, it is not the serious cases of communicable diseases that spread them. It is the ones so mild that those who have them can go about and meet many other people."

"But wouldn't it be a good thing if all the other people could get the disease in this light form so that they would not catch the bad kind later?"

"Yes, if they would not catch the bad kind. But they are just about as likely to get the bad kind from a mild case as from a severe one. As a matter of fact the ones that are so bad that they die quickly are very unlikely to infect anybody else."

"Why is that?"

"Well, they die before they have a chance to do so. Another thing that is not commonly known is that these diseases are often most contagious in the beginning and are spread before the rashes appear and make a diagnosis possible."

"I didn't know that, either," admitted Barney, who was beginning to cool down.

"I know you did not, Barney," said the health officer, "because no one who understands these things would object to quarantine. People do not want to risk the health and lives of other children and as soon as they know about these things they will be insisting that their doctors report them quickly in order that other people may be protected. As it is now, they make it very hard for their physicians and often become angry with him for doing that which the law requires him to do. Sometimes they even persuade a weak doctor not to report a case, even though by so doing he makes himself liable to a criminal action at law."

"Well, Doc," said Barney, "I see this thing different now and it is all right. You can keep your sign up as long as you want if that is the way of it. My daughter would not want anybody else's kids to get sick and maybe die from catching something from hers."
